Important information!

Information for substances and methods that are prohibited at all times (in- and out-competition) you will find in the WSA list of prohibited substances and prohibited methods for dogs.

The WSA is not liable for the content of information provided to be in the context of inquiries about the admissibility of the Use of a specific drug or the application of a method ("medication requests") issued, provided by the WSA for willful or grossly negligent. The exclusion of liability also applies to any damage caused to the result of supplying incorrect information.

Neither the information available on the websites of the WSA, or by the granting of individual information requests arise in the context of drug information and consulting contracts between users and the WSA to effect for or against the WSA. The credit reports are solely an information of the user in the form of a knowledge assertion. The observance of advice from a respondent is not the fault of the WSA. Each user is so far only at your own risk.
